The Most Difficult Commandment

Dear Parish Family,

Today's gospel, with its command to love one's enemies and pray for one's persecutors, and worse yet to turn the other cheek to insult, is surely the most difficult of the commandments. It is so difficult that almost no one I know ever repeats or remembers it as a commandment. To this command of the Lord we all seem to turn the other cheek!

When I was teaching Catholic morality to college students, they generally regarded Jesus' sayings as being wise and true. But not this one. Someone in the class would always remark that this command seems to be a mistake. And even if not a mistake, a command that would probably not be followed. Love one's enemies! Turn the other cheek! Impossible.

Of course what is often lost in the saying is the important point that we are sometimes God's enemies. That is what it means to be a sinner. We are going in the opposite direction to God's thoughts, God's desires, and God's purposes. That is what it means to be an enemy. And when we do this, we find ourselves still loved, forgiven, and welcomed by our God. I am grateful for this.

Perhaps part of the problem is that the word love as it is used here confuses us. It is hard for me to imagine the same sentiments toward enemies that I feel toward family, friends, and loved ones. Love as we know it is hardly ever one sided; it is almost always reciprocal. We love those who love us, belong to us, and for whom we are responsible. Jesus wants us to think about a one sided love, a respectful love that comes from within us and is not conditioned by whether it is received, understood, equally felt, or returned. Perhaps the word respect is easier for us to understand. The gospel tells us to be a person of respect always even if we find ourselves not respected.

The opposite of the great command is the old command: An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth! My class usually thought this was a pretty good commandment (and I could hear Jesus moan!). The problem with this command is that we become not ourselves but the other. If someone is hurtful to us, we become hurtful. If someone ignores our dignity, we disgrace them. If someone tries to kill us, we kill them back, or first. While it is always legitimate to defend oneself, it is never good to become like the other who is evil to us.

The gospel literally asks us, in this crazy and complicated world in which there is so much anger, violence, and disrespect: Who do you want to be like? Do you want to be like God? Do you want to be like all those others who make the world a difficult place? Do you want to be part of what makes the world better or part of the problem that offends you?

A good reflection for this week is to think about a time when someone has been good to you, even when you did not deserve it. That experience is always humbling and powerful. That experience is always of God. And that of course is the point of the gospel today.

Lent Draws Near Help Gather Last Years Palm

Lent and Easter are early this year. Lent begins on March 5th—Ash Wednesday. As many Catholics know, the ashes used on Ash Wednesday come from the burning of last year's palm branches. To help us celebrate this connection, you are all invited to bring palm from last year to church on the weekend of March 1/2 so that they may be used to mark the beginning of Lent this year.

Ash Wednesday :: March 5

As always we will have plenty of opportunities to celebrate the beginning of Lent. Blessed ashes will be distributed at the following times.

- 8:00 AM — Mass
- 10:00 AM — Prayer Service
- 12:00 Noon — Mass
- 2:00 PM — Prayer Service

Our Parish Mission :: March 24-26 Evenings of Prayer, Music and Reflection with Dan Schutte

This year we will welcome Dan Schutte, a well known catholic musician and composer. Dan is the author of many songs we sing at mass each week including Here I am Lord and Table of Plenty. On these evenings Dan will weave together his music and the spiritual reflections behind them. You will not want to miss this uplifting mission.

A Note from Religious Education Director Jennifer Ferrantino

Today's gospel reminds us how we are called to give of ourselves. If something is asked of you, give that and then more. Help someone for one mile and go the extra mile to help. Jesus gave his life totally for us and we are called to do the same for each other. In religious ed classes our students are being challenged to think of others and give of themselves. Children give so freely and they never seem to look for anything in return. Our older students are giving of their time in preparation for Confirmation this spring.

The Second Graders preparing for First Holy Communion will meet for a mini retreat day Saturday, March 15, 2014 at 10 AM. Children and parents will meet in the Church.

Tuesday, May 13, 2014, Bishop Perez will be here to celebrate the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Please contact me if you are not receiving the confirmation information.

Please check the webpage www.shjmbasilica.org under the Religious Ed tab for changes and/ or updates. Please contact me with any questions 283-0508 or jferrantino@shjmbasilica.org .

Reflections on the Gospel from Pax Christi February 23rd, 2014

“Do you not know that you are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you?”

This question from St. Paul is a question for all of us, all of us! It is said to you and me, to our relatives, neighbors, co-workers and classmates, to our friends and, yes, even to our enemies. No wonder God says in the book of Leviticus, “You shall love your neighbor as yourself” and Jesus takes it even farther and tells us to love our enemies and pray for those who persecute us. How hard is this? It is as hard as loving those who cheat us, rob us, fly planes into our buildings to kill us. It is as hard as being tortured and hanged on a cross for a crime you didn’t commit. It is VERY hard, but it is what it is to be a Christian. God help us never to stop trying no matter how many times we fail.

~Pax Christi Metro New York

Serving God by Serving Others

Our Lord is grateful to those who sacrifice in His name to build the Kingdom of God.

No gift is too small when it is offered with love to serve others.

A Place to Call Home

Marion lived with her mom through her early adult life. Her family was anxious about who would care for

Marion, who is developmentally disabled, when mom passed away.

They believed it would be best if she lived with one of them when the time came. But mom wanted a fuller life for Marion and she worried that her daughter wasn't living the life that God had planned for her; she knew she was capable of great things.

Her mother turned to Catholic Charities' home for people with developmental disabilities—then, wonderful things did happen to Marion.

"I saw my sister changing," explains Richard, Marion's brother. "She started working and became really independent. She gained a sense of responsibility and there was camaraderie in her new home. She not only had people that she could depend on, but more importantly, she had friends that depended on her."

Catholic Charities has been operating residences for the developmentally disabled for over 35 years, providing people like Marion with a sense of belonging and a place to call home. Your support helps Marion live a full and happy life.

Acercarse a la Santidad - Tratar a los demás como creemos que deben ser tratados es un riesgo. Al no ver como Dios, nuestros ojos humanos no saben lo que hay en el corazón de los demás. ¿Cuántas veces hemos juzgado a alguien sólo para descubrir después que no podíamos suponer la razón de sus acciones? Jesús nos ofrece algo mejor: amen a los demás lo merezcan o no. Al hacerlo, sólo daríamos lo que nosotros mismos recibimos: La gracia abundante de Dios. “[Él] hace salir su sol sobre los buenos y los malos” (Mateo 5, 45). Cuando aceptamos a los demás como son, amándolos y perdonándolos, imitamos a nuestro Padre celestial y nos acercamos a la santidad, a la que hemos sido llamados. Texto: © 2010 OCP. En las Lecturas de Hoy - ¿Cómo podemos ser "santos"? La liturgia de hoy nos ayuda a comprender este llamado a la santidad. En la oración colecta, la voz del celebrante se eleva para pedir que realicemos siempre en nuestra vida la santa voluntad de Dios. Y cada una de las lecturas nos ayuda a comprender la voluntad de Dios como compasión y misericordia (Salmo 102). Ante esa misericordia divina, el Señor nos exhorta a perdonar de corazón a nuestro prójimo (primera lectura), a disfrutar de los dones del Espíritu porque somos templo del Espíritu Santo (segunda lectura) y a construir puentes de reconciliación entre todos los que sufren división y rechazo, especialmente en nuestros hogares (Evangelio). Violencia Doméstica - Habrá un taller de concientización sobre la violencia domestica cada primer viernes del mes de 6 a 8 PM en la escuela de la parroquia Santísima Trinidad en East Hampton. Venga e informase para prevenir el abuso y ayudar a las víctimas. Habrá un grupo de profesionales en el área para contestar sus preguntas. Los menores de edad que asistan deben llegar acompañados por un adulto.
