One More Year of Heat

June 20/21

Dear Parish Family,

As the summer days get warmer and warmer, I am sure many of you are wondering when we will finally have our new heating and cooling system. You can be sure that my brother priests and I were hoping this would be the summer—but we have one more to go. It took a bit longer than I thought because (1) we had to deal with the asbestos abatement and cleaning the crawl space and (2) the project was even more complicated than it seemed at first. Here are some of the challenges and how we plan to address them.

The challenge of our architecture: The main challenge of providing cooling to our church is the historic beauty of our building. Engineers typically like to cool from the top down — providing high ducts and returns on the floor. It was this puzzle that deterred Fr. Trench from including this improvement in the last renovation. New technology has a number of solutions for this and the one we will be using replaces the radiators with units that can both heat and cool the church. Sitting along the base of the wall, these units will hardly be visible. The front of the church and sanctuary area, which have no radiators, will be cooled and heated with several small floor vents.

How much cooling do we need? A second challenge was to calculate how much cooling our church would really need. When commercial buildings are designed, the thinking is that they will need to be held at 68° on the warmest day of the summer, with the maximum number of occupants. Considering the lack of insulation in our church, that kind of thinking would require an enormous amount of cooling power. In engineer language, 80 tons. That would require quite a bit of machinery and a potentially high energy bill. Several things here work in our favor. We want the Basilica to be comfortable but not too cool. We can plan more for the average situation than for the worst case. Our church is never as full in the summer as it is on Christmas and Easter. And the average Southampton summer day is about 10° cooler than most places in the northeast. Planning this way cuts that first estimate of cooling capacity almost in half.

Sound: There is nothing quite like a quiet church. Cooling systems do introduce a bit of air noise. Since the new system will be both heating and cooling, we wanted to make sure that the church would remain a quiet place. For those of you who like technical details: Right now the sound level in our church is about 36Db— pretty much like a very quiet library. Your home is likely to be about 45Db— about the same as the church when people are in it and praying. The new system in heating mode will require the least air movement and fan speed and should be about the same level of quiet as we have now. In cooling mode, a little more sound will be noticed, about 45 Db. Still pretty quiet. For a fair comparison, consider this; our church in summer with 6 fans running is about 65 Db or about the same amount of sound as the interior of a commuter plane!

Exterior Considerations: While the interior of our church has received a great deal of attention, we also needed to look at the exterior of the church. Cooling equipment can be large and not especially attractive. Even though we were able to plan a more modest cooling capacity, we would still need a good bit of equipment if we used traditional solutions. But now an excellent solution is available that eliminates the need for all that exterior mechanical equipment: geothermal energy. This type of system is in use at several large Southampton buildings, most notably the Parish Art Museum. With this type of system, the pumps and thermal exchange equipment can all be contained in our existing boiler room and the only external things to see would be a couple of manhole covers in the parking lot for the wells.

When will things happen?:

The current schedule of work looks like this.

- Fall 2015 — Geothermal wells are drilled, tested, and verified for capacity
- Winter 2015 / 2016 — Background work will be done on some plumbing, gas, and electrical upgrades
- Spring 2016 — Starting March 28, the day after Easter, installation of the church equipment. This should occupy the body of the church for about 2 –3 weeks. Whether we continue to have Mass in the church or move to the auditorium for those weeks will depend on the outside temperature.
- May 2016 — New system is tested and running!

We will also be scheduling the pew refinishing and carpeting around the heating / cooling work. Some of this may be completed in advance when we know exactly how the removal of old radiators and installation of the new equipment will go.

And, lest we forget, I am hoping that rest room construction can also take place this fall. We are very close to completing a plan for that right now.

Thanks for all your patience and most of all the generosity that is making this all possible.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Fr. Mike

Did you know... about Bernard Nathanson, MD, abortion proponent turned Pro-Life? Dr. Nathanson was a New York City Obstetrician-Gynecologist who, in the 1960's, ran the largest freestanding abortion clinic in the world, and was a founding member of the National Abortion Rights Action League, or NARAL. He presided over more than 60,000 abortions, doing thousands himself. In the late 1970's, in part because of the availability of improved ultrasound imaging, he began to question the morality of his actions, and completely changed his mind, becoming an outspoken opponent of abortion. He wrote extensively on the subject, including a book titled "The Hand of God: A Journey from Death to Life". In 1996, he converted from Judaism, and became Catholic, being Baptized by John Cardinal O'Connor. He always emphasized that he came to Catholicism after he became convinced that abortion was wrong -- not because the Church said so; he was attracted in great part because one could find forgiveness in the Catholic church. Dr. Nathanson died at the age of 84, and was buried from St. Patrick's Cathedral, in New York City.

Reflections On the Gospel from Pax Christi June 21, 2015

“Teacher, do you not care that we are perishing?” How often have we felt like the Apostles on that turbulent sea? Things are going terribly. We’re frightened for our lives. And where is God? Oblivious to our plight? All the Apostles had to do was wake Jesus up. He was right there for them, and he quickly calmed the sea. He also questioned their faith. What can we draw from this scene? Certainly, it may feel good to know we are not alone. The Apostles, Job, everyone throughout history has experienced very hard times and a sense of abandonment. What may be harder to remember is that God is always with us. While we may not be able to solve our own problems, let alone the world’s, God-with-us can. Our role is to have faith, to ask for help, and to be grateful when it comes. Then, perhaps, we can extend that faith-filled help to others.

Sube a la Barca - El símbolo de la barca se ha usado con frecuencia en la Iglesia. En el correr de los siglos, la Iglesia ha navegado en las aguas turbulentas de la vida. Sin embargo, Jesús, con un simple gesto de su mano, calma todo temor. San Agustín, en su comentario al Evangelio que escuchamos hoy, dijo que Jesús vive en nosotros por la fe. Y la fe presente en nuestro corazón es Jesús presente en nuestro corazón. La fe vigilante es Jesús que vigila. La fe dormida es Jesús que duerme. Por eso, hay que despertarlo y rogar estremecidos: “Maestro, nos hundimos” (del Sermón 81, 8). Texto: Michael R. Prendergast, MTS, MA © 2005, OCP. Derechos reservados.
